

Job Reference Letter for Bulathsinhalage Sankha Cooray

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing in reference to Sankha and his job application. I have known him for 9 years as a friend. I have known him through the university as well as in the Tech industry.

Sankha is a unique individual with a rare skill set. He is a perfectionist with an eye for innovation. Over the years I was fortunate enough to explore his innovative projects starting from game development to AR/VR applications. On top of that, he was contributing to the community with new projects to improve the technical knowledge among school students. He is one of the best innovative minds I have come across and has the capacity to set up proper engineering standards.

Moving back to his personality, He is someone with high integrity and trust. He values sharing his knowledge with others. Therefore he is always well respected among others.

I would recommend Sankha for the Research Engineer position because his technical skill set is unique and with this position, he will have the freedom to work on innovative research projects which will bring value to the University. I believe this will lead to a few great innovations.

If you require any other additional information please feel free to contact me.
Thank you.
